Abstract

Balancing Cartographic Quality and GIS Integrity

Track: Cartography and Map Production
Author(s): Tom Neer

The production aesthetically pleasing maps while maintaining positional integrity is a constant challenge to GIS professionals. Cartographers habitually move or alter features to increase their presentation sacrificing positional integrity. This paper will explore the differences between production datasets for human versus computer consumption and techniques for balancing cartographic aesthetics and GIS positional integrity.

Tom Neer
EDAW
1809 Blake Street
Denver, CO 80202
USA
Phone: 303-595-4522
Fax: 303-595-4434
E-mail: neert@edaw.com